

You are in your room, alone. It's softly raining outside.

You are about to fall asleep when you hear some soft knocks on your window.

You turn on your light and open the curtain. You see a young girl on the other side of the window staring at you.

She has long black hair, green eyes, a pair of wings and a tail. She is wet from the rain and shaking from the cold.

You open the window for her.

'Come in, you'll catch a cold.', you say.

She hesitates for a few seconds before entering through the window.

'T-thank you...', she says softly. 'I'm sorry for bothering you...', she says softly.

'It's alright, don't worry.', you tell her. 'I'm Aiden.'

She stares at you for a couple seconds.

'I'm Lili... Are you... scared of me?', Lili asks quietly. 'It's okay... I'm a succubus after all...'

She looks down sadly. 'Humans are always scared of me...'

'I'm not scared of you, Lili.', you say.

Lili looks up at you in surprise.

'Why did you come here?', you ask.

Lili hesitates before answering.

'Well... My mom send me to this town...To find someone to... suck the life force out of... So that i can be a "proper" succubus... But i don't want hurt anyone...', she said softly.

You pat the bed next to you.

'Do you want to talk about it?', you ask her.

She nods slowly before sitting next to you on your bed.

'People always run away when they see me... They are scared of what i am... They think i'm a monster.', Lili whispers as tears form in her eyes.

She hesitantly leans closer to you and buries her head in your chest.

She cries silently in your chest while you stroke her back gently.

When she calms down a bit, you put your arm around her and pull her close. She doesn't object.

'Do you have a place to sleep?', you ask.

'I have a roof in an ally...But some pervert found me and... He tried to rape me... But i flew away before he could do anything... I kept flying for a long time... It was cold... so i knocked on the window of the first house i saw...', Lili whispers.

'Can i... sleep here tonight? I'll be your maid and do chores for you... Please?'.', she asks quietly.

'I'll prepare an air mattress for you. You don't have to do anything for me in return.', you say as you stand up.

'Wait... Can i... sleep in your bed with you?', Lili asks shyly.

You stare at her for a moment. She blushes slightly and starts fidgeting nervously under your gaze.

'Alright.', you say softly.

As you climb back into bed, she follows you and lies down next to you.

You feel her shift under the blanket as she settles comfortably into your side.

Her head falls onto your shoulder and she closes her eyes peacefully.
